VOL. CXXXII— No. 232. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1916. PRICE 2 CENTS

MYSTERY IS SOLVED

Identified as Mary F. Swartz of Chicago by her brother-in-law This Morning

Another sad chapter in human experience was opened this morning when John E. Swartz, of Chicago, arrived here and identified the body of the dead woman who was drowned in the Potomac, near Mount Vernon, about twelve days ago. Her name was Mary F. Swartz, and she was the widow of Dr. T. B. Swartz, a former practising physician of the city of Chicago, who died there in February last.

Shortly after her husband's death, Mrs. Swartz left Chicago and went to Huntingdon, Long Island, to spend the summer with her brother,D. J. Fort. A few days previous to the finding of her body in the river here she had left Huntingdon. On the return trip to Chicago, it is believed, that she stopped in Washington. Her trunk was checked to that city, where it still remained at the Union station until today; also she shipped a package by express from that city by the Wells Fargo company, the receipt for which was later found near her person, by James Young, assistant superintendent of the Mount Vernon estate and led to to her identity.

Her brother-in-law, John E. Swartz, who came here to identify her today, said that she had about one hundred dollars with her when she started from Huntingdon, but no money or anything of value was found on her person when taken from the water.

The deceased was about 59 years of age and was a lady of very high character and well-educated, having been superintendent of schools at Elkhart, Indiana, previous to her marriage. At the time of the Iriquois theatre fire, some eleven years ago, in Chicago, she lost two children and a sister which, together with the recent death of her husband, is thought to have made her despondent; and it is owing to that fact, her friends believe, that she committed suicide.

Her brother, D. J. Fort, was expected here today. Arrangements will be made to take the body to Chicago either today or tomorrow.

NEW REVIVAL TO OPEN

Evangelist Stancill to Open Campaign In Old First Presbyterian Church Tomorrow Night

All the arrangements for the opening of another revival, under the lead of R. W. Stancill, and backed by the members of the Disciple's Union of the District of Columbia and Maryland, in the Old First Presbyterian Church, on south Fairfax street, tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock, have been completed.

Mr. Stancill has had a very extensive experience of evangelistic work throughout the middle-West and South. He expects to continue the meetings here until a sufficient membership has been acquired to justify the formation of a permanent congregation. He will be assisted by prominent laymen and preachers of his church in Washington.

The Christian Church, which is one of the most rapidly growing denominations, is especially strong in the middle-West and has some twenty-five churches in the District of Columbia and Maryland. Members of the denomination were first called Campbellites after Alexander Campbell, their first leader. They are now also known under the names of Disciples, Church of Christ and Christians.

They extend the invitation at each service and also celebrate Holy Communion at each Sunday morning Church service. They believe in Baptism and have a form of church government similar to that of the Congregational church.

NOTICE.

The bowling alleys, and athletic department of the Westminster building, will reopen at 7 p. m. Friday, October 6th, All men and boys of good moral character are invited to join. Membership cards can be obtained at the building or from any members of the Boardof Governors. The membership is undenominational.

WESTMINSTER BANQUET

Plans Made for Campaign for New Members—Judge Barley Delivers Address.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Westminster Club, the large Young Men's Organized Bible Class of the Presbyterian church, was held in the Auditorium of the church last night. The banquet was served by the Clan Mackay, the Young Women's Club, of the church.

Judge Louis C. Barley made the principal address of the evening. Captain, F. L. Slaymaker, teacher and leader of the class, was toastmaster. Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, pastor of the church, also spoke briefly.

Officers elected for the coming year were: President, C. E. Purcell; vice president, S. H. Field; secretary, K. W. Mount; treasurer, Otto Miller; Chairman of Membership Committee, Alvin Hayden; Entertainment Committee, G. Monroe Johnasen.

Plans were laid for the inauguration of a campaign for an enlarged membership and also for the formation of a league of bowlers on the Westminster alleys.

Judge Barley's address pertained to the making of character, having especial reference to the value of character as a social and business asset. It created a very strong impresion among the sixty or so men who heard him.

The Westminster Class is open to all young men under twenty-five years of age and holds sessions every Sunday of the year, at 9:45 o'clock, in the morning, in a room of its own in the Westminster building, This room is also used as a club room by members on evenings of the week.

PREMATURE SHUTDOWN

Justice Caton Suddenly Closes Lid on Liquor Selling to One Customer.

There were but two cases on the docket of the Police Court this morning. A negro had been arrested for being drunk and begging on the street. He was dismissed with an admonition.

The second prisoner was a white man, who has often been there before, and invariably upon the same charge. While the officer was describing the libinous propensities of the delinquent, the latter, who is loquacious, interrupted the proceedings several times with the exclamation, "Now, see here, judge! I've been at work recently." He appealed earnestly to Chief Goods to corroborate his assertions, when Warden Candler, of the city jail, asked permission to speak a few words. He was allowed to talk, when he said: "Judge, that man has been on a spree to my certain knowledge during the past six weeks."

The prisoner became greatly excited at this knockout blow, and again appealed anxiously to the court. The words, "Now, judge," were repeated rapidly, but to no purpose, and the decree went forth, "Mr. Candler take charge of him for the next twenty-seven days, or until the prohibition law shall have become effective." Turning to the dipsomaniac, Judge Caton continued: "You made oath before me that you would abstain from the use of liquor, I will see you get no more while its sale is lawful."

The words several times repeated, "Now, judge, listen," died away as the prisoner was hustled into the corridor.

YOUNG MEN'S SODALITY

Concert and Speech-Making in Lyceum Hall Largely Attended Success

The Young Men's Sodality Lyceum 'did themselves proud' last night in the celebration of their twenty-eighth anniversary in Lyceum Hall.

One of the features of a well varied musical and oratorical program was the address of the Rev. Father L. F. Kelly anent his tour of the Holy Land two years ago. In a tremendously graphic manner Father Kelly painted a vivid word picture of the Eastern country which is hallowed in the thought of all christians.

A majority of those who provided the musical entertainment of the evening were local talent. All the nembers were well rendered and gave evidence that Alexandria has a wealth of musical ability. Among these numbers were: Pianoforte duet, the Misses Cook; Violin and piano solo Miss Winifred L. Bayne, violin and Miss Pearl M. Harrington, piano, piano solo, Miss Virginia Downey. Miss Downey also accompanied the vocal soloist, Thomas Cantwell, of Washington.

Miss Mary Lennon and Miss Emma Hubbard very artistically rendered two recitations.

Other speakers were Claude M. Lennon, who presided over the meeting; Thomas E. Dyson, president of the Lyceum, and the Rev. Father Louis Smet, rector of St. Mary's Church. Father Smet, who delivered the closing address, touched upon the proposed enlargement and improvement of the Lyceum Hall, which will be accomplished in the near future, and will provide additional facilities for staging and extra seating. In this connection, it was announced that plans are under way for the formation of a Dramatic Club which will be under the direction of Mr. John England.

Bridge Collapses.

Between five and ten persons were killed and fully fifty were injured late yesterday afternoon when the north span of the West Third Street Bridge in Cleveland, Ohio collapsed under the weight of two heavily loaded street cars. The two cars dropped a distance of twenty feet into the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks which skirt the river edge. One street car fell in such a position as to land upside down. The other car remainded right side up, but was wrecked by the heavy girders and beams of the bridge falling on it. Many of the injured and some of the dead were women. The cars were crowded to capacity, as the accident occurred during the rush hours at 5:30 p. m.

FAIRFAXAN ARRESTED

Charged With Selling Cows and Failing to Make Returns to Owners

Several months ago James Downs, of Annandale, Fairfax county, it is alleged by Charles E. Linton and Benjamin Hunter was entrusted by them with three cows which he was to dispose of to the Rosslyn Packing Company of Alexandria county. Downs, they claim, failed to appear and make settlement, and subsequently the owners of the bovines applied to Harry White, Justice of the Peace of Fairfax county, for a warrant for Downs's arrest. The police of this city were asked to keep a lookout for the man, and the warrant having been endorsed by the police justice of this city his appearance in Alexandria was awaited. Today Sergeant Wilkinson came upon Downs and placed him under arrest. The three cows were valued at $95.

ARMOR PLANT PLANS

Committee to be Heard by Secretary Daniels on Last Day of Hearings, October 10.

It is announced that owing to the large number of cities which are now seeking to obtain the Government Armor Plant the decision of Secretary Daniels and his associates will not be made for several months yet.

Among those who are in a position to know however, Alexandria is reckoned among the first three which have a chance at all.

Secretary Daniels will return from the West late this week and the hearing to be accorded by him to the Alexandrians on Tuesday morning next, will be the last he will give on this subject.

It was at first thought that none other than the Alexandrians would be heard on this day, but it is now stated that this will be a sort of 'clean-up' day for all the new claims.

The local committees are all hard at work and will have a striking and convincing array of data to present when Congressman Carlin introduces their members to Mr. Daniels.

A meeting of the general committee will be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce on Friday afternoon, at four o'clock.

Baby Found

A baby two weeks old was found abandoned lying on a bed in the home of Mrs. Mary Kane, 742 3rd street northwest, Washington, early yesterday, with this note pinned to her clothing: "Geraldine Lane, born September 13, 1916, Richmond, Va." The child was deserted by a couple who came to the place Friday afternoon in an automobile and engaged a room. Early Sunday morning the infant's cries attracted Mrs. Kane's attention and she investigated.

Steamer on Fire.

The fish steamer Manhaden, Capt. E. W. Milligan, belonging to the Dennis Fish and Oil Company, of Cape Charles, caught fire Friday morning and her afterhouse, quarter deck, bulkhead and a few beams and ceiling were burned. CAMERON CLUB MEETS

Election of Officers and Plans Laid for Coming Season Yesterday Afternoon

The first meeting of the Cameron Club for the season of 1916-17, was held in the home of Miss Helen Norris Cummings, 606 Cameron street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

After discussing business affairs the annual election of officers followed. This resulted in the re-election of Miss Cummings as president. Other officers also chosen are: Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, vice-president; Mrs. John Leadbeater, secretary and Miss Margaret McG. Ashby, treasurer.

One of the decisions arrived at during the meeting was that of giving a dinner for the benefit of the trained nurse employed in the public schools.

The dinner will be given early in the fall, after the Masonic fair is over. It is expected that the ladies will secure the presence of a number of distinguished speakers to add to the attraction of the entertainment they will offer to the men who are to be their guests.

THE RAMBLER.

Paragraphic Points Picked up by Our Man on the Street.

Mrs. J. Weatherby Crosby is always having trouble with her help. Nearly everybody knows her, but not by the name I have given to her. Some of her neighbors pay much less to their servants than she does, and work them much harder, but they manage to keep them for years without any fuss or worry.

The other night Mrs. J. W. C. returned home very late. She had just motored in from Washington. In the shade of the large tree in front of the house stood Mary, the housemaid, and Tom. Tom drives the delivery wagon for a local merchant who sells things to eat.

The chauffeur is a little jealous of Tom. He saw a golden opportunity and so he turned the search-light upon the couple just as Mrs. J. W. C. alighted from the machine.

It was a mild night; the moon shone, and Mary and Tom are very much in love. You can, therefore, imagine what Mary and Tom were doing when the searchlight shocked them apart.

Mrs. J. W. C. became so indignant that the heavy lavalliere on her expansive bosom rattled as noticeably as the crockery in a lunch room during the dinner rush.

It was one of her rulings that her help should have no "followers". It is one of her deepest convictions that the "lower classes" are naturally depraved. Right then and there she discharged Mary from her employ.

"Don't I," she demanded, "provide you with a nice clean room that you can go to when your day's work is done. What more can any girl want?"

What indeed!

Leaving Mary and Tom—I won't attempt to tell you what Tom was saying about Mrs. J. W. C.—standing on the pavement, Mrs. J. W. C. swept into the house. As she entered the hallway she heard a noise in the reception room. She listened for a moment and then peered quietly through a crack in the heavy curtains which separated the room from the hall. A satisfied smile hid her big red face. Her seventeen- year-old daughter sat on the sofa beside a certain young man whom everyone knows is going the pace that kills. And there was another love scene!

That's all of our little story except Tom and Mary were married the next day. They had planned to wait a little longer and save a little money before they did it, but neither had a home of their own and they could not afford to live in the kind of boarding houses which provided reception rooms where young people may entertain their sweethearts.

There are hundreds of young people who are in a like position. They're up against it in the winter time when its too cold to hold hands out-of-doors. And everyone will agree that the Movies isn't the ideal place, after all, in which to make love. And because of this condition lots of young people are still paying instalments on the furniture when they should have money in hand for the baby carriage and all the other 'fixtures'.

THE MASONIC BAZAAR

Alston Caball, Grand Master of Masons of the State of Virginia, notified Chairman Duncan today that he would leave Richmond at noon on Tuesday and expects to arrive in Alexandria at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. He will direct the opening exercises of the Bazaar on the evening of that day.

A delegation consisting of the Worshipful Masters of the two lodges in this city and the Hon. Lewis Towers, of Washington, representing Grand Master Jerman of the District of Columbia, who will not be able to personally attend, will be present to meet the distinguished guest.

After a luncheon the members of the local committee will escort the delegates on an automobile trip through the Mount Vernon neighborhood to Pohick church, returning by way of Hayfield, Mount Eagle and other places of historic interest.

Grand Master Caball will deliver the address of welcome, and with other short ceremonies the Bazaar will begin about eight o'clock of the opening night. Delegations of Masons from Washington and many other cities will be present.

The secretary of the local Memorial Committee, Charles H. Callahan, has recently received notification that Mr. Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway company, has presented to the Bazaar a silver loving cup, standing sixteen inches high, of beautiful Colonial design. The donor has specified that this shall be presented to the most popular railroad man at the Bazaar. Mr. Harrison will not be able to attend in person, but the presentation will be made for him by E. H. Kemper, assistant comptroller of the Southern Railroad. The cup will be on exhibition at the Shriners' Booth in charge of Mrs. E. H. Kemper, and much interest has already been aroused in regard to it.

Fifty-three persons were injured Sunday afternoon when the floor of the First Presbyterian Church of Johnson City, N. Y. collapsed during the services being held in connection with the laying of the cornerstone. Seven of this number are seriously hurt. Two hundred and fifty persons were hurled into the basement, 18 feet below, when the floor gave way, and it was nearly a half hour before all had been removed. The floor that collapsed was a temporary one constructed to care for the dedication crowd.

DEMOCRATIC PROSPECTS SHOW IMPROVEMENTS

The very significant facts developed in the news of yesterday. One is that the President is to have the whole-hearted support of the Tammany organization. The other is the attitude of the independent voters of Wisconsin, as reported by an agent of the Republican National Committee. In this latter case it is discovered that Senator LaFollette, while the Republican nominee, is advocating the principal measures of the present administration and particularly those which Mr. Hughes is using as material for his attack upon Mr. Wilson Among these is the Adamson Eight-Hour-Bill.

As a result, it is confidently asserted that the large number of the Independent voters of Wisconsin, who are supporting Mr. LaFollette, will vote for Mr. Wilson. A similar condition is becoming manifest also to some extent in California where Governor Johnston obtained the Republican nomination for the United States Senate in spite of the support of the old guard Republicans.

Wisconsin is, normally, a strong Republican state. There is every reason to believe that Mr. Wilson will this year gain a majority of its electoral votes. And the fact that Tammany, which in the last election, for reasons which are now a part of history, gave the President but half-hearted support, is now solidly for him, indicates that New York will be counted in the Democratic column.

Tammany today is stronger than ever. It suffered a reverse at the time of the election of Mayor Mitchell, but the tide is now turning the other way. In all the city elections last year Tammany came into its own again. It bids fair to control the State, as in days of yore, in November.

And so, in a word, with Wisconsin added to the doubtful states and New York assured to Mr. Wilson, the prospect today is better than at any time since the conventions nominated their candidates.

QUESTIONABLE POLICY

An audience representing the clergy and laity, the artistic and commercial elements of Washington, applauded and expressed approval of the photoplay "Purity," at a private performance given at the Garden Theater yesterday morning. Several prominent clergymen of the capital city were of theinvited guests, among them Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, formerly rector of Christ Church in Alexandria.

General approval of the photoplay was expressed by all of those present. There was no general objection to the film. Dr. McKim expressed approval of the story, but thought there might be less nudity in the picture.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia had ruled against "nudity in public", and the private party was invited to act as critics.

We have several times during past years expressed the conviction that procedures like the above result in more harm than good. Many years ago the famous "Clemenceau Case" was the attraction at a New York theatre. Much criticism and condemnation was uttered against the production of this bold French play, but the advertisement given it proved very remunerative to the managers. In some cases certain persons living in Alexandria visited New York in order to witness the performance.

Several years previous a well-meaning but mistaken minister of the gospel made nocturnal visits to the dives of New York in order to gather subjects for sermons. He graphically described all he saw to thousands of young men who up to that time were unaware of the fact that such scenes were enacted in New York. The result was natural. They went and saw for themselves.

The [illegible] Paul knew what he was [illegible] when in one of his epistles when he said, "For it is a shame to speak of the things done by them in secret."

FALLACIOUS REASONING

Captain J. Walter Mitchell, former president of the Personal Liberty League of the District of Columbia, in a speech delivered recently in Maryland, gave utterance to that time-worn argument 'you cannot make men and women good by legislation.'

Most assuredly not! We agree with the gallant captain. But you can, by legislation, remove a great many of the causes which make for mental and moral deterioration. People who have suicidal tendencies can be prevented from self-destruction if they are placed in safe-keeping and under proper guard. The argument that the abolition of liquor will not help to produce temperance and an increased moral fibre in a community is as ridiculous as to assert, as did some of those who opposed Child Welfare Legislation, that if the children are not at work they will be getting into mischief or cultivating bad habits.

Neighbors of Agnes and Alice Smetters, maiden sisters, aged 48 and 50 years, respectively, seeing no activity about the home of the two women Sunday in Lancaster, Ohio, entered the house and found the two women and Miss Mary Stretton, 30, a visitor, sitting erect in rocking chairs and all three dead. There was no sign of violence or poisoning and an examination of the gas pipes revealed no leaks. Medical attention revealed no cause for the deaths.

When applied to the study of the nature, cause and elimination of disease, it becomes a science and philosophy whch is able to locate and analyze, unerringly, the cause of disease, and provides the best method known at the present time for removing the cause.

The method is original, unique, adequate, and is the most prompt in bringing about a cure. It is absolutely safe.

FOR CAMPAIGN FUNDS

National Democratic Committee Authorizes The Gazette to Receive Subscriptions

The Gazette today opens its columns for the receipt of contributions to Woodrow Wilson's campaign fund.

Under authorization by the Democratic National Committee, the Gazette will undertake to raise a fund to assist in meeting the expenses of the campaign. Contributions, large and small, will be welcome, and will be acknowledged in the columns of this newspaper. Each contributor also will receive from Wilbur W. Marsh Treasurer of the National Committee, a handsome lithographed receipt.

For the expenses of its national campaign the Democratic party is dependent entirely upon popular contributions.

The party does not expect and will not take money for its campaign fund from persons or corporations with sinister purposes. It abhors the practice of catering to the vested interests, and seeks its support from the multitude.

Four years ago 89,854 individual contributions were received. The managers of Mr. Wilson's campaign want to raise that figure to more than 100,000 this year.

It was the money of the people that paid the expenses of electing Mr. Wilson in 1912. It is the people who have been served during the three and a half years of his administration.

It is your battle. Peace, prosperity, justice and honor! These are the blessings that Woodrow Wilson has won for you; these are the blessings that are at stake.

How greatly do you value them? How much does faithful service mean to you? The Gazette gives you an opportunity to answer. Send or bring your contributions to this office. It will be acknowledged promptly.

DRAMATIC CLUB

A number of Alexandrians are debating the formation of a Dramatic Club. It is their purpose to stage several plays during the coming winter season. Whatever profit there may accrue from these will be devoted to some charitable or public purpose.

It is the purpose of those interested in this movement to undertake a somewhat ambitious program and they invite the Co-operation of those who will take an interest in this direction. They are in a position to secure able direction and have already found a number of persons who can creditably fill principal roles. Any who are interested in this plan may write to Dramatic, care of the editor of the Gazette.

Henkel Boyd, a farmer of Kernstown, Fredrick county, had to pay a fine and court costs Thursday in Winchester for defending himself when Mrs. Asa Crisman, of the same place attacked him with a hatchet. Magistrate A. J. Tavenner, who heard the case, held that Boyd was within his right in defending himself when attacked, but that he had acted rather rudely, pushing Mrs. Crisman away. The touble started over pigs of Mrs. Crisman's which had devoured about two bushels of Boyd's corn.

Between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 will be spent by the Norfolk and Western Railway within the next few months on extensive improvements at various points on the system. Among the improvements planned are the extension of the electrification system on three divisions, a new freight station and additions to the company's shops at Roanoke.

Mrs. Sophie Gaither Schley, widow of Major B. Henry Schley, Frederick Md., and a family connection of the late Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, died last week at the home of her nieces, Misses. Ida and Minnie Baker in Winchester, with whom she had lived many years.

Unless he can take the oath prescribed by statute that he is the owner of at least $100 at par value of the capital stock of the institution he will serve, and that such stock is unpledged, a man is not eligible for service as director in a State bank in Virginia, according to an opinion handed down last week by Attorney-General John Garland Pollard in reply to a query by Chief Bank Examiner C. C. Barksdale. Furthermore a man who has served as director in a bank, and, at the time of re-election or reappointment, cannot take oath that his stock was not hypothecated during his previous term, is ineligible to serve from one term into another without interruption, and his inability to take the oath creates a vacancy.

SENATOR MAPP TO RUN

Accomac Man tells Friends He Will Be in Race for Lieutenant-Governor.

A Richmond dispatch says State Senator G. W. Mapp, of Accomac County, recognized as a leader in reform legislation at the last session of the General Assembly, will be in the race for the nomination by the Democratic party for Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia.

Senator Mapp's entrance will make the race a three-cornered affair. Two candidates for Lieutenant-Governor have already come forward since Lieutenant-Governor Ellyson has entered the contest for the nomination as Governor. They are Judge Martin Williams, of Giles County, and former State Senator B. F. Buchanan, of Marion, now a member of the legal staff of the Comptroller of the Currency.

Senator Mapp's entrance will make it certain that the contest for the nomination will be no tame affair.
